

FACILITIES PLANNING

It is the responsibility of the Board to develop and implement plans for school facilities that will meet the educational requirements of the district both today and in the future. The responsibility for long range construction programs shall rest with the superintendent.

The Board shall rely on the superintendent and other administrators and staff members to collect and research the information on facilities needed to house the prospective school population, maintain present educational programs, and institute new ones.

Each building principal shall be responsible for evaluating the functional usefulness and capacity of his particular building(s).

After considering reports and recommendations from the superintendent and staff, the Board shall determine to what extent new construction is needed to maintain high quality education within the district.

During the planning phase of new construction within the district, this Board shall engage in substantial communication with other boards whose districts have recently been involved in new construction in order to gain vital information concerning new construction.

Adopted 7/28/77

LEGAL REF.: Wyoming Education Policies Reference Manual, code PB

